AI for Everyday Africans: From Awareness to Action

A Proposal for the Yaoundé Workshop & Continental Impact

BY Clement Tala And Arnold Chiy (Both Resident in the UK)

Awareness, Access & Action

The Vision: One Million Africans

The goal is not just a workshop; it is a movement. Africa must not simply consume technology; we must understand it, apply it, and leverage it for growth. Yaoundé is the launchpad for this continental shift.

MINDSET

Moving from Curiosity to Confidence

“You are not behind. You are here. And that decision positions you ahead.”

Artificial Intelligence will not replace professionals. Professionals who use AI effectively will outperform those who do not.

Core Learning Pillars

1 AI Intuition

Recognizing strong vs. weak outputs. Understanding why AI behaves the way it does to adjust strategies predictably.

2 Context Engineering

The art of structured background information. Defining role, objective, and audience before prompting.

3 Orchestration Skills

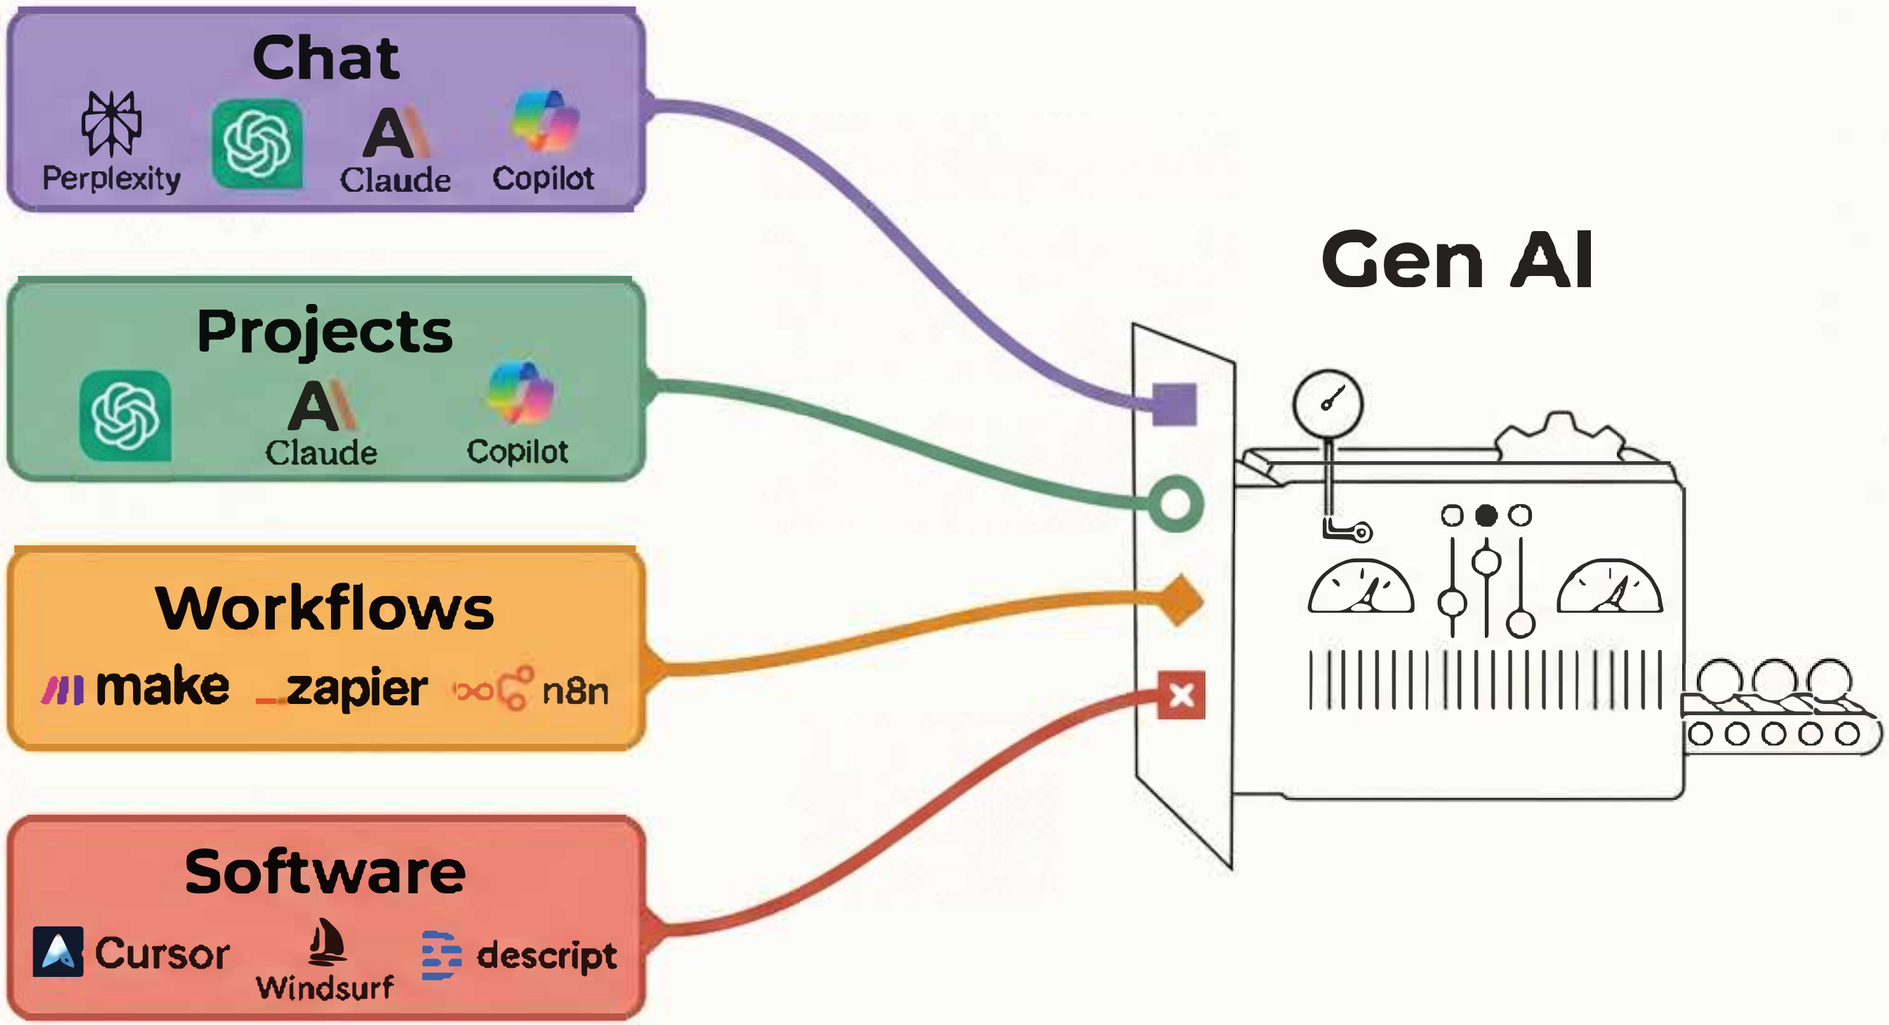
Matching tools to task complexity. Breaking down complex work and automating repetitive processes.

4 Scaling & Sharing

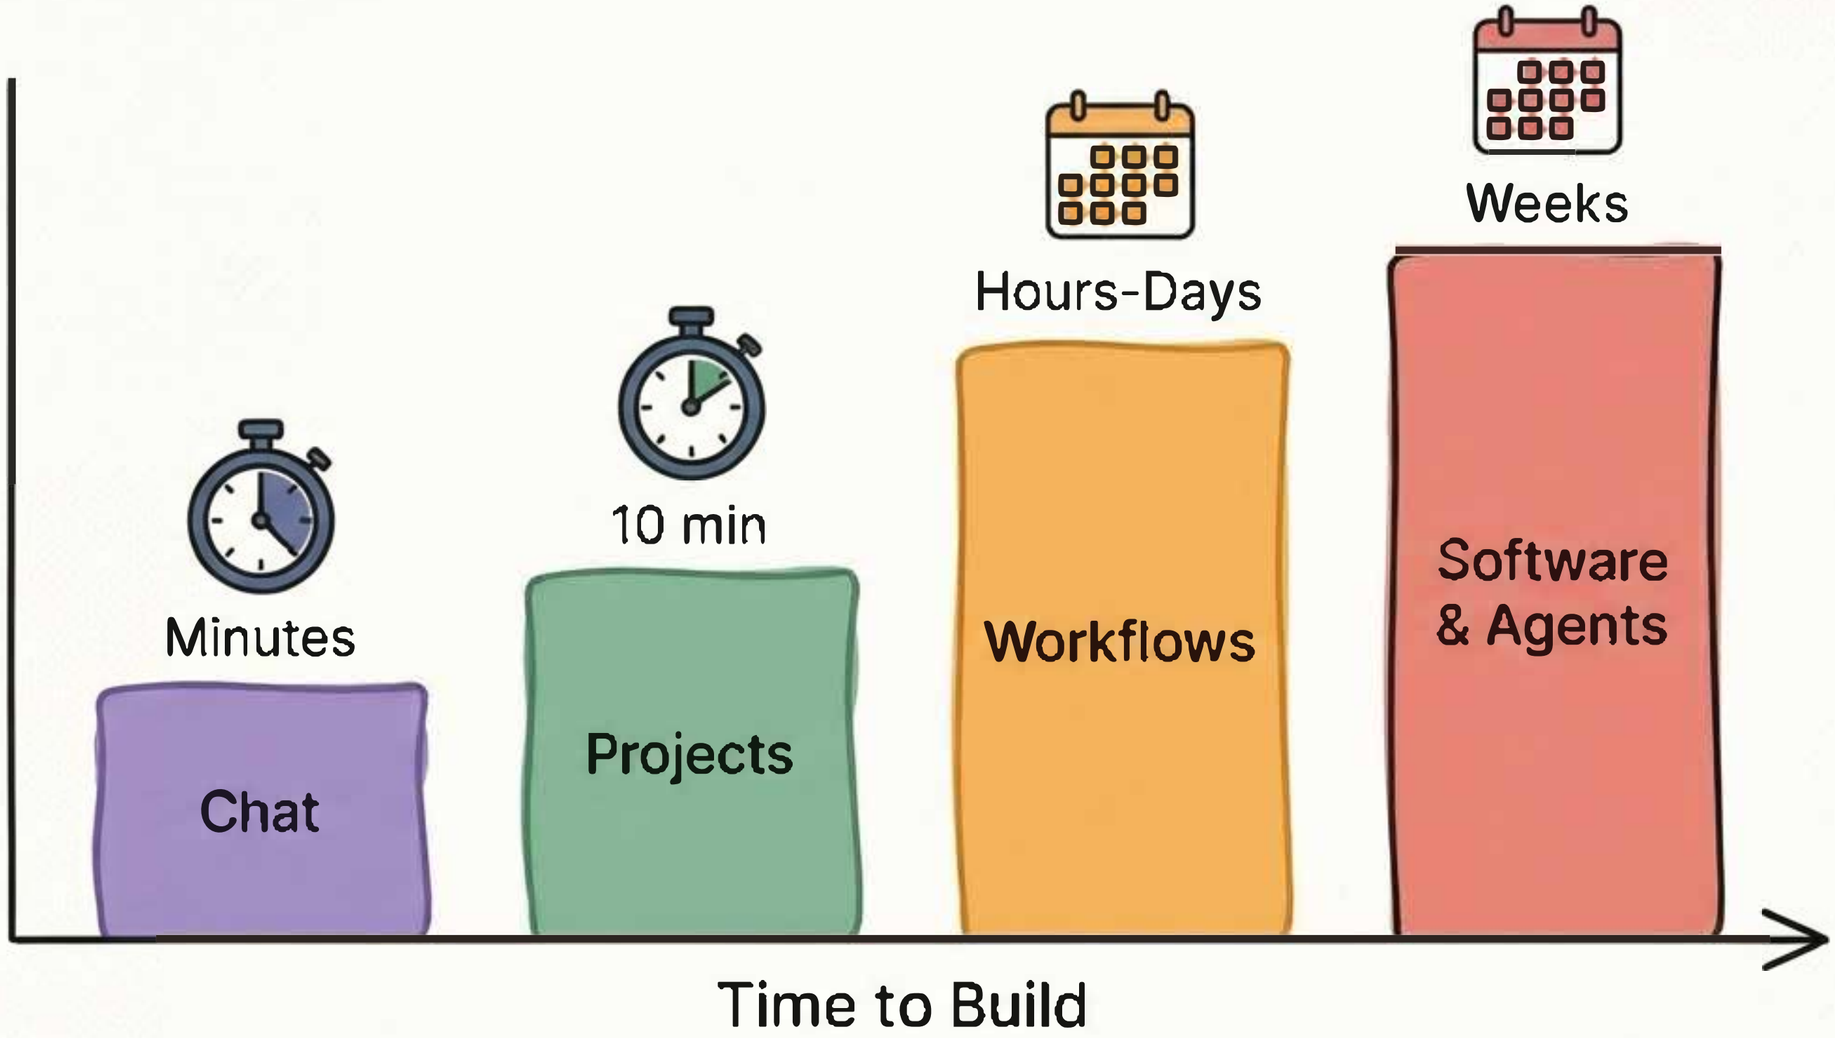
Saving structured prompts and building organizational efficiency to reduce outsourcing costs.

MINDSET

The Technical Framework: Four Ways to Use AI



The Evolution of Value

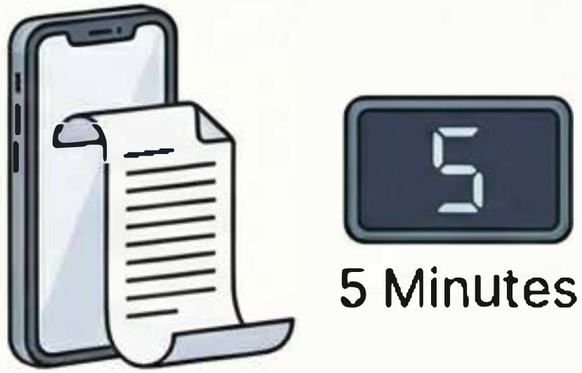


Real-World Outputs: No Coding Required

The Old Way

High Cost (£500+) &
Slow Turnaround.

The AI Way



Zero Cost &
Instant Drafts.

- Business Proposals & Reports
- Lesson Plans & Educational Lectures
- Marketing Content & Social Strategy
- Interactive Dashboards

Requirement: Bring a smartphone or laptop. Leave with finished work.

The Curriculum & Schedule

Saturday, 21 March | 10:00 - 16:00
